Seven Subs Soon Will Tie Up at Galveston

HOUSTON, Sept. 15 (AP).—Seven submarines are expected to tie up in Galveston at the naval amphibious training base about Sept. 20 to give crews a period of rest and relaxation, the Navy public relations office here has announced. They were listed as the Sea Poacher, Sea Robin, Sea Owl, Sennet, Kingfish, Croaker and Gabilin.

Hurricane Gracie September 1959
Bill Brinkman USS Sea Owl SS 405

In 1959, while stationed on the USS Sea Owl SS405, we were conducting a big NATO Exercise Fishhook off Bermuda. The Exercise was cancelled due to the development of Hurricane Gracie. We were attempting to avoid its course as we headed back to New London. But if we went left, Hurricane Gracie went left.

We were in heavy seas on the surface going directly into the prevailing waves. We eliminated one lookout on the bridge and instead had one lookout (me) and one Conning Officer strapped to the bridge with chains and belts and wearing foul weather gear. The Conning Officer was 5 feet 2 inches tall which was the minimum height allowed for submarine duty. He was on the port side and I was on the starboard side.

To give you an idea of how rough the Atlantic Ocean was , we had a US Navy Destroyer one mile away from us on our starboard side. Normally, you can see about 20 miles.

The ocean was so rough that I only saw the destroyer every 30 minutes as we both would be on top of equal height waves. Now that's rough!

Another measure of roughness is that of the crew of 100 , only 10 of us were not sea sick. Other crew members were offering me $ 100 (three weeks pay !) to stand their 4 hour watch so that they could stay in their bunks. Another measure of roughness is how many crew members begged you to shoot them!

So we were on the bridge when we rolled 50 degrees to the port side. We were standing only 7 feet above the nominal water-line and I looked down and saw the whole Atlantic Ocean rising up! With my 6 foot height and standing on my tippy- toes and arching my back and tilting my head back , I was able to keep only my lips out of the water. While gulping down the precious air , I saw the poor Officer completely underwater for about 30 –45 seconds. Mercifully, the sub started rolling back to my side , elevating the Officer as the ocean drained away.

This Officer then asked me if I knew what to do if he was washed overboard. Normally, we would steam ahead , make a 180 turn , and go back for him. But in these heavy waves , turning would capsize us and kill all 100 men and of course , lose the ship.

I told him these facts and that besides throwing him a life preserver , that all we would do is wave "Good Bye " to him! So he then called the Captain and received permission for us to go below , dog down the Conning tower hatch , and do our lookout duties on the periscopes (remaining on the surface).

Many have wondered , why didn't we submerge? Well , the rough seas last longer than we can stay down. If we had to make an emergency surface (fire for example) , then we could possibly surface 90 degrees to the prevailing seas and capsize. So all things considered , our diesel sub was safer on the surface.

During this ten days of rough seas , we experienced a most amazing event. We ended up in the Eye of Hurricane Gracie!

It was wonderful. It was as though we were in the bottom of a huge soup bowl 20 miles in diameter. We were in the 20 mile flat part of the Ocean in extremely smooth water , as smooth as a still lake , and all around the 20 mile diameter was a rim of water 50 feet high! In the 20 mile eye looking straight up , the sky was perfectly Blue . But extending all the way up above the 50 foot water wall was the swirling black cloud which you could not see through.

A most un-pleasant side effect of the extremely smooth water of the Eye of the hurricane was that the 90 sea sick sailors recovered. Their color came back from green to normal , their cockiness returned , and they ate . Unfortunately our brief one hour time in the eye actually is at the 1/2 way point of our rocking and rolling. The poor lads got even sicker when we were back in the 50 foot waves!

Editors Note : Hurricane Gracie was the 3rd Category 4 Hurricane to hit South Carolina in 194 years (1824 to 2018) as in 1954 Hazel hits Myrtle Beach ,SC :1959 Gracie hits Beaufort , SC and in 1989 Hugo hits Charleston, SC.

4. Next Reunion ?

As you know, at our reunion in Manitowoc our main business is to select the next Reunion. If you want to go to a specific place, and time, its best to do some homework before our September 27, 2019 business meeting. You will present the proposed events, hotel costs, approximate overall reunion cost, and so on.

(Note that Karl Schipper had done a lot of research and had the Manitowoc 2019 proposal well scoped out at our Pensacola Reunion in November 2018 whereas other proposals didn't have the research and/ or costs figured out.) Note that after we select the next reunion, that the entire USS Sea Poacher and USS Sea Owl and USS Sea Robin Associations joins in with promoting and running the next reunion.

Also everyone at the reunion is urged to come to the Business Meeting as all those that attend the reunion get to vote on when and where the next reunion will be .

Please call / e-mail me (512-255-0285 / seapoacher@att.net) and let me know that you are working on a reunion proposal as I can assist you. However, for two or more proposals, I must remain neutral until after we vote at the Business meeting.

Dewey Reed

SO 1962-1963

Perch Base Life Member and Holland Club Member Dewey Reed, STC(SS) departed on Eternal Patrol on March 4, 2019.

Dewey enlisted in 1957 and was assigned to his first boat, the Blenny (SS-324) out of Key West, FL, where he qualified and married Dorothea (Dottie) Soley in 1957. He was assigned to the Picuda, (SS-382) in 1961 and the Sea Poacher (SS-406) in 1962. He told us that serving on Sea Poacher was one of his finest experiences. He made second class and reenlisted in 1962 just prior to the Cuban crisis. During the crisis Dottie stayed in Key West believing that for a missile to hit her it would have to be defective. After the crisis was over, Dewey received orders to Sonar "B" School. After completing his training, he was assigned to the Grenadier (SS-525) and then 1966 was assigned back to school in San Diego as an instructor. During his 2 years in San Diego, he was promoted to STC (SS), an accomplishment to become a Chief in 7.5 years. His last assignment in 1969 was to help place the Tench SS 417 out of commission. After the Navy, Dewey and Dottie settled in San Jose, CA and he worked in various positions in the electronics industry and started his own company. Dewey and Dottie retired in 2007 and became full time RVers. They sold everything they had, purchased a long fifth wheel recreational vehicle and lived in it full time. They visited 22 submarine museums, done all of Route 66, been to nearly all the Sport Halls of Fame in America, been in all 48 contiguous states, visited numerous "War of 1812" sites, explored dozens of Civil War sites centered in Virginia, in one year alone attended 54 baseball games up and down the East Coast, attended nearly all the Sea Poacher reunions and most USSVI Conventions

Those of us at Perch Base would see Dewey in the winter months until he would hit the road when the weather became too hot. The memorial service and urn placement for Dewey Reed at the Arizona National Memorial Cemetery was held on April 2 , 2019 in Phoenix.

Oliver Ross EN 1958
